

THE CENTER FOR MAGHRIB STUDIES IN TUNIS (CEMAT) INVITES YOU TO A LECTURE ON:

« EXPANDING ACCESS TO EMERGENCY
CONTRACPTION IN THE ARAB WORLD:
LESSONS LEARNED IN TUNISIA »

by DR. ANGEL FOSTER

Dr. Angel Foster is the Echo's Endowed Chair of Women's Health Research at the University of Ottawa and an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Health Sciences. A Rhodes Scholar, Dr. Foster's research focuses on women's comprehensive health care in Tunisia, Egypt, Jordan, Palestine, the United States, and the Thai/Burma border. She will discuss her new book, Emergency Contraception: The Story of a Global Reproductive Health Technology, and other important new research in Tunisia.

Please join us for a CEMAT lunchtime lecture, in English, at CEMAT's NEW annex location in Sidi Bou Said above Café Coste, next to the Sidi Bou Said TGM Train Station. Should you need further clarification, call 71.775.624 for directions. A light lunch will be served.

12:30-14:30

October 11, 2012